PRIMARY BATTLE IS BEING FOUGHT IN
TWO STATES TODAYIllinois and Nebraska
Are Storm Centers of Republican Contention
Over Delegateships.

PREDICTIONS MADE

Chicago, April 8 (INS.)—Illinois and Nebraska today were primary battlegrounds, with eighty delegates to the Republican National Convention at stake. National interests in both of the midwestern states which followed Michigan to the polls focused on the Republican battle, as Gov. Bryan's favorite son status kept the Democratic slate clean in Nebraska and Illinois was expected to send an unimpaired delegation to the New York convention.

In Nebraska, Senator Hiram Johnson's supporters predict victory as a result of the hearty reaction to the Senator's two speaking tours, although sharp observers concede that the suborning of investigation at Washington and the Daugherty disavowal seemed to have helped President Coolidge's chances for the nine-day delegates from that state.

Johnson has made two intensive campaigns through Illinois also, as the result of which Harold L. Ickes, his Illinois manager, expressed confidence that Johnson will go through with flying colors. On the other hand, James W. Good, at the Coolidge ball, declared that Coolidge will not only carry the State as a whole but elect nearly all the "no preference" delegates of Coolidge.

McAdoo leaders in Illinois were hoping for a large enough expression in his favor to influence an unimpaired delegation to New York. He was unopposed.

Reaction against both major political parties because of the long drawn series of Washington investigations was expected to result in a large progressive vote in Nebraska, where a third party has nearly a complete ticket.

Henry Ford named for the Presidential nomination in this state, has no opponent within the new party.

Mellon Tax Schedule
Is Restored By Senate
Committee; Vote 9 to 7

Washington, April 8. (INS.)—The Senate finance committee today completed the 1924 tax reduction bill and referred it to the Senate. The bill carries the Mellon tax plan.

The vote on reporting the Mellon rates as the committee's bill was 9 to 7, the Democrats opposing. They will submit a minority report, proposing an 8 per cent as the maximum surtax rate, compared with 25 per cent in the Mellon plan.

Despite the efforts made by the Republicans on the finance committee to increase the rates carried in the House bill, Senator Smoot, of Utah, the committee chairman, estimated that the total yield under the bill would be $60,000,000 short of the Treasury's anticipated expenditures next year.

Cofford Wisor and Bennie Vokes were Stoneville visitors in Clearfield yesterday.

Mrs. Edgar Shaw, Mrs. Dale Chaplin and Mrs. J. B. Nevling were among the Clearfielders who went to Washington.

Boy Owns 200 Pure-Bred Hampshires

Starting with one little pure-bred, white-belted Hampshire pig five years ago, Herbert Wilber of Moxley, Woodbury county, Iowa, has become past owner of a herd of 200 pure-bred Hampshires and several thousand dollars' worth of modern hog equipment.

It was in the spring of 1919 that young Wilber became a member of the Federal-State Pig clubs. He borrowed the money to buy his first pig and started out to build up a herd by following the methods taught to club members. His herd began to grow and incidentally to win prizes at state and county fairs. Wilber, senior, made the son a business proposition. He offered to furnish the feed and housing if the boy would contribute the foundation stock and the management of the herd. The division of profits was to be on a fifty-fifty plan. The first thing young Wilber did was to sell off all the grade hogs on the farm and restock the pens with pure-bred Hampshires from his own herd. Now they own 200 pure-bred hogs and two modern hog barns.

"It's through work of this kind that the boys' and girls' clubs of America can restore the confidence of our young people in farming," declared Samuel R. Guard, director of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, which is working out a plan to extend aid in the organization of the boys' and girls' club work.

"In view of the present wave of pessimism, it is not surprising," he said, "that national leaders are confronted with the problem of how to keep our young people satisfied. It's through such work as Herbert Wilber has been doing that rural boys and girls will come to understand the dignity of farming and its possibilities of profitable returns."

Endorse Coolidge And
Disapprove The K. K. K.

Providence, R. I., April 8. (INS.)—The 13 delegates chosen at the Republican state convention here to the national convention are instructed to "use every reasonable means" to bring about the nomination of Calvin Coolidge. A resolution condemning the Ku Klux Klan as "a threat to our institutions and destruction to our fundamental law" was passed.

Johnstown, Pa., April 8. (INS.)—The klansmen will be given fair and impartial treatment. Proceedings against them will be made in a legal manner, and no "strong-arm" methods tolerated.

With this statement to International News Service today, District Attorney D. P. Weimer summed up his attitude toward the case in which Ku Klux Klansmen are being held in jail here charged with carrying concealed weapons, murder and rioting in connection with the killing of two men and probably fatal injuries to two others.

The men will be taken to Ebensburg tomorrow for hearings on habeas corpus proceedings.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 8. (INS.)—"We are going to know all there is to be known about what happened at Lilly," Gov. Pinchot said in commenting on the present situation there and on the riot Saturday. The Governor said his office has been in touch with the situation there since a few hours after the killings through the state policemen on the scene.

Deputy Attorney General Philip S. Moyer also is investigating certain angles of the case for the Department of Justice.

Coolidge Is Michigan
Choice; Democrats Are In A Peculiar Position

Washington, April 8. (INS.)—Both Republican and Democratic leaders said today that they were not surprised by the results in the Michigan Presidential primary.

"President Coolidge's victory over Senator Johnson was a foregone conclusion," said Senator Watson, Republican, of Indiana "and the result will be the same in Nebraska and Illinois today."

Senator Ferris, Dem., of Michigan, who was defeated by Henry Ford, said that he had anticipated Ford's victory, but that he failed to understand why Ford had not withdrawn in view of his endorsement of President Coolidge.

The victory of Henry Ford over Senator Ferris places Michigan Democrats in the position of being forced to go to their national convention and give the automobile manufacturer at least one solid vote in the face of the fact that he endorsed Coolidge. Ford's name was entered in the race by Edward Frendorf of Hudson, a hold time Democrat only a short time before Ford came out for Coolidge. Ford has never withdrawn his name.

noon, the charges were also made against Herman Kuntz and Wilson Slister late yesterday. They were arrested after leaving the railroad car from which the 24 other klansmen were arrested, and cartridges were alleged to have been found on Kuntz.

Hints were openly thrown out today that powerful influences of the county were massing forces for a court battle in the coming legal proceedings. Percy Allen Ross, wealthy attorney, at the head of the klansmen's says release of the men secured even if $5,000 bail each was set for their release.

Before the arrests were made on Saturday night county authorities searched the entire train and obtained more than 150 names in addition to the 26 men arrested. The 150 men were released when no weapons were found on them. However, they are being investigated, and additional arrests may be made, it was announced at the sheriff's office.

Mr. and Mrs. Banco were in town on Sunday to visit their children who have been at the Children's Home during Mrs. Banco's long illness.

J. B. Long, county engineer from Norristown, was here on a business trip to see the County Commissioners on Monday.

DECLARES DANIEL WAS MURDERED BUT
RICHARDS IS ALIVE

Man Strangely Missing
From Atlanta Prison
Tells Amazing Story of Mer Rouge Slaying.

CANNOT BE FOUND

(Copyright 1924 International News Service)
Atlanta, Ga., April 8 (INS.)—Thomas F. Richards is still alive and a captive of Ku Klux Klansmen.

This is the keynote to an amazing story, which Dr. A. C. Bussey, the "man of mystery" who has disappeared from the federal prison here, boasted would solve the infamous hooded mob murders of Mer Rouge, La., which shocked the nation during the winter of 22-23.

In his startling tale, rivalling the fancies of fiction, Bussey flatly repudiated the charges of the State of Louisiana that Richards and Watt Daniel, his bosom friend, were "fed into a torture machine," by a black robed mob of klansmen in August 1922.

Bussey admitted Daniel had been murdered but he insisted that Richards left the scene of the crime an unharmed man—but a captive of those whose hands were red with Daniel's blood. The two bruised, mangled bodies, which authorities later found in Lake La Fourche and which were identified by dry eyed friends of Richard and Daniel, Bussey classed as "fakes," secured from the riff raff of medical colleges.

For the last twenty months, Bussey claimed, Richards has been held—a captive by friends of the men who killed Daniel. The captive has been harried from state to state, surreptitiously and usually in the dead of night, a fugitive from the Klan as well as from those who represent the law.

From his prison cell, Bussey wrote a friend: "I hold the secret. Richards is alive and I can lead you to him any time. His mother lives at West Monroe, La. and for her sake things must move. Some one is pleading for her and the prayer of a mother will be answered shortly."

If I have to serve all my time, I will do it like a man, but Richards will be returned to his mother at no distant day."

Here is Bussey's story: "Richards was induced to betray his bosom friend to the masked band of murderers on that warm August afternoon when the Klan went raiding along the highways of Morehouse Parish. He lured Daniels into the Klan's hands and when hours later, violence ended in murder, they carried Richards away to captivity lest his lips send half a dozen of their number to dangle at the end of hang man's nooses."

Up into Arkansas, the murderers carried their captive and then on a wide-sweeping arc across the state, and southward into Texas. Weeks of captivity lengthened into months and finally into years.

Daugherty's Personal
Files For Twenty Years
Burglarized Friday

Washington, April 8. (INS.)—Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty was advised today by friends in Columbus, Ohio, that all of his personal files for 20 years back have been burglarized.

The files were removed to Daugherty's home in Columbus from his law office when he became Attorney General in 1921. The robbery is said to have occurred last Friday night, but Daugherty did not learn of it until today.

He said today that he did not know what had been taken from the files and would not be able to determine what was missing until he has made a personal investigation.

Curtis Wrigley, of Kenneth Square Pa., is visiting local relatives at present.

DON'T FORGET THE
CANCER PREVENTION
MEETING TOMORROW

The Cancer prevention meeting under the auspices of the Clearfield County Medical Society, to which the public is invited and urged to attend, will be held at the High School auditorium tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. Be there unless you have a conflicting engagement.

ONLY SMALL AMOUNT OF APPLICATIONS
FOR ROADS CAN BE FILLED THIS YEAR

Clearfield County is very much in favor of improved roads. That fact has been demonstrated every time that the voters of the county have been given opportunity to express themselves on the subject. They voted overwhelmingly for each $50,000,000 bond issue for road building and just as soon as the present issue was authorized every section of the county got busy in an effort to land a share of the $217,000 allotted to the counties for county road building. Unfortunately for some sections the State law requires that this $217,000 must be spent on secondary routes only, which limits this sum to three sections of the county, there being just three secondary routes uncompleted in the county with a total mileage large enough to eat up the $217,000 and its additional $217,000, required of county and township and then some.

Nevertheless and regardless of that stubborn fact, Clearfield county still wants improved roads and lots of them, in fact there are applications now on file and pending in the County Commissioners office for improved roads in the different townships of the county totalling approximately 75 miles. To build this total mileage, under present prices for improved road would require $3,375,900. So it is needless to add that a very great portion of that 75 miles is going to remain unimproved for several years at least, while County Commissioners will contract many more grey hairs than they possess now before they decide just where and just what of that asked-for road mileage will be constructed this year and for the next couple of years.

The different applications on file with the Commissioners are as follows: Mahaffey to Westover and Cambria county line, 14 miles. This is a secondary route.

Irvona borough line through Becaria township and Coalport to Cambria county line, 2 1-3 miles. Another secondary route.

AN EFFECTIVE MANNER OF ROUTING BANDITS

New Douglas, Ill., April 8. (INS.)—Poison gas released by a secret device in the vault of the Grange State Bank here when six bandits blew off the outer vault door with nitroglycerine at 1:45 a. m., today, routed the bandits and saved thousands of dollars of the bank's money.

LACKAWANNA RIVER RUNS WILD, FLOODING
HUGE HARD COAL MINE; TWO MEN DIE
IN RUSHING WATERS; 6,000 MEN IDLE

Soranton, Pa., April 8. (INS.)—A kept away by the great wall of water which surged into the mines. A million dollars already done officials of the Glen Alden Coal Company, spared no effort or expense today in attempting to change the course of the Lackawanna River which late yesterday broke through into the Dodge mine and flooded five other big collieries, throwing 6,000 men out of work. Two men are missing in the mine flood, considered by mining men one of the most serious in the history of the anthracite coal region.

The missing men are Simon Jones, by officials of the Glen Alden Company is to run a freight train into the believed to have been drowned and driver to check the flood.

Water is rushing into the mines through the great opening in the Dodge mine at an estimated rate of 200,000 gallons per minute, and the lower veins of six big mining operations are under water.

The latest plan being entertained by the officials of the Glen Alden Company is to run a freight train into the believed to have been drowned and driver to check the flood.

DIMELING HOME IS UNDER OPTION TO AMERICAN LEGION

John Shade Post of the American Legion has about closed the deal whereby they will become the owners of the handsome and commodious Dimeling home at the corner of South Second street and Leavy avenue.

The Legion has been figuring for some time on a home and memorial for the Clearfield county veterans of all wars and had been contemplating building in lower Witmer Park. On account of some doubt over Council's right to give title to the contemplated site and because it was learned that the Dimeling property could be purchased and appeared like a much more desirable proposition, the first plan was abandoned and negotiations entered into looking to the purchase of the Dimeling property.

These negotiations have resulted in tying the property up to the Legion and it is expected the final arrangements for the taking over of the property will be made at next Monday evening's meeting of John Shade Post.

GRANGE PROTESTS AGAINST MUNICIPAL TIME TINKERING

Harrisburg, April 9.—The Pennsylvania State Grange, through its secretary, Fred Breckenman, of this city, has filed with W. Freeland Kendrick, mayor of Philadelphia, and William A. Magee, mayor of Pittsburgh, a protest against the adoption of daylight saving time, as is planned by these two cities and other municipalities following their lead, beginning Sunday, April 27.

The Grange sets forth in its protest that the proposed action is clearly in violation of the statute of 1887, which provides that "eastern standard time shall be the sole and uniform legal standard of time throughout this Commonwealth."

The Grange reviews the history of legislative battles on daylight saving that have been waged at Harrisburg during the past several years, calling enacted by the last legislature. This particular attention to the amendment of the Act of 1887 which was enacted by the last legislature. This amendment, sponsored by Senator Derrick of Bedford county, reads as follows:

"No county, city, borough, township or township, or other municipal subdivision of the Commonwealth shall by ordinance, resolution, or rule, adopt a different standard of time for any year, or any portion of the year, than that herein provided; and all ordinances, resolutions, and rules herebefore adopted, contrary to this proviso, are declared to be void and of no effect."

Continuing, the Grange communication reads:

"The arguments for and against daylight saving have so frequently been aired during the past few years that it would be both profitless and wearisome to repeat them. The legislature heard these arguments, appraised them at what they were worth, and then decreed that we should have standard time in all parts of the State the year round. There can be no mistaking the legislative intent in this matter."

"The question now is, shall the law be obeyed?"

COUNCIL HAS VERY BUSY EVENING WITH BOROUGH BUSINESS

Part of Cherry Street to Be Paved; State Is Expected to Rescind Sewer Reduction Order.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

The first step in the Borough Councils 1924 construction campaign for Clearfield was taken at last night's meeting of Council when Borough Solicitor Urey was directed to prepare an Ordinance for the paving of Cherry street, between Second and Third streets. This improvement will be made pursuant to petition of the property owners, presented last fall, two thirds of the cost being charged to the abutting property owners.

Was Very Busy Session

Last night's session was the busiest so far this year the Council room being filled with citizens asking about everything from sidewalk grades to annexation of township territory.

James Spence and Lester Smal wanted sidewalk lines and grades on Linden street and some idea as to where the sewer would be built on that street. The Engineer was directed to establish the sidewalk line and give grades accordingly, while Engineer L. D. Matter of the State Health Department, who happened to be present, promised the sewer permit would be forthcoming within a few weeks.

Charles Blake and William Davis asked to have alley between Spruce and Polk street opened and sidewalks laid on Cumberland street. Referred to Highway Dept.

J. L. Breth renewed the old time complaint regarding surface water on the turnpike avenue, near Nichols street. This is a proposition for the property owners to work out but thus far and for several years they have refused to work it out, Council informed complainant.

Oscar Gearhart presented a petition asking for an arc light at corner of Hannah and Olive streets. Referred to Light Committee.

Coe Walters asked for permission to place a sign at the entrance of alley leading to his garage on West Side and same was granted.

Frank May wanted alley between West 16th and West 7th avenues filled up.

Treasury Balance $29,602.86

The Treasurer's report showed a balance of $29,602.86. Of this amount there is available for construction and repair work, $10,771.50 in the general borough fund and $4359.58 in the 1923 improvement fund.

Burgess Kittelberger reported seven arrests for March and a contribution to the treasury of $29 in fines for the month.

Borough Solicitor Urey added $113.86 to the cash balance with that amount of Bigler avenue sewer assessments.

Want Sidewalks Built

Complaints regarding the condition of and lack of sidewalks in several sections of town, were received and notices to build walks ordered served on the following property owners: Alfred Derrick, Turnpike and Elwood avenues; Shlamei Beirs, Mrs. Kate Dale, Mrs. Lennox Russel Cabel, James Barratt, W.

SPRIGHTLY HATS FOR EASTER

For a Maid and Her Mother

YOU will find it pleasant on Easter afternoon to look from your window and watch the parade of gay new Hats that travels by. And if you have an invitation yourself you will be glad to have a fresh and smart new bonnet to put on. There is a becoming Hat here to agree with your Easter costume. Straw cloches, turbans, tricorne and picture Hats have tiny brushes of feather, large roses to trim them; often a single white flower against a dark background, or a Roman striped bow that takes an odd and clever angle.

Girl Types

THIS is a haven of tiny Hats that modern bobbed hair girls love to slip on. One sporty with up-turned brim wears the excuse of a feather. Many Hats have the same gay color that girls Spring wraps have.

$2.95 to $6.50

Matron Modes

A NUMBER of Hats have been set aside for the matron with lovely silvering hair. These have shapes that are unusual and enormously flattering. Their trimmings give grace and dignity. Newest straws in tasteful colorings.

$4.50 to $8.50

Tubable and Highly Fashionable BLOUSES

FOR the weeks when neither cloth nor tub frocks are just right the suit and blouse is a fashion-right costume.

The vest effect blouse has come in as a complement to the tailored suit. Many have a jabot frill this Spring and frequently choose a pastel shade to make themselves different and interesting.

Many overblouses in English broadcloth and dimity are showing the new platted bib effect and when a Tub Blouse has a new feature like this it is nice to own one—no, two.

Tub blouses in many, many styles.

Dress and Sport Styles In EASTER FROCKS

SPRING is a joy if one has many Frocks. Women are finding this a delightful place to Easter shop, and you too will enjoy choosing Dresses from this collection not only for Easter, but for every conceivable Spring occasion.

Dresses for Afternoon And Evening Wear

YOU know the Easter dance is less than two weeks away and that is not more than sufficient time for one to choose a beautiful evening dress, hose and slippers to match, etc. This year we have a truly wonderful collection of dresses for the afternoon and evening parties. The correct shades are powder blue, sand, muffin, peach, grey and orange. While most of the effects are produced by the use of lace and beaded combinations, do come in and allow us to show them to you—we will appreciate your honest opinion of them. Most of them are priced from

$45.00 to $60.00

To Add Lustre to Spring Days

A PLATED frill imparts youth to a slender satin frock. A vivid dress of foulard has a jaunty apron front. Boyish lines are the choice of a soft moire, delightful for afternoon. And this is only a smattering of the styles ready here for the many frock occasions that arrive with spring.

$15.00 to $60.00

Fur Neckpieces For Spring

WE are showing just the proper furs to go with the Spring Suits and Dresses. The popular grey squirrel in both the single and double skin throws at $10.00. Then there is the stone martin and mink and in the larger pieces we have fox and we are featuring large scarfs of fox similar in silver, peach, flesh and taupe. You must see the furs to appreciate them as they are real values.

For Easter Day New Gloves

HUNDREDS and hundreds of gauntlet Gloves—no two pairs seeming to be alike—are ready for Easter choosing. Cuffs are quite short and are beaded, tufted or embroidered in colored thread. Black and white is especially good but there are a number of likable tan and grey shades in kid.

Spring-Smart Hosiery

COLOR counts in Hosiery for Spring. Sunbeam shades are good, gunmetal, pearl grey, and all shades of brown provided they complement your costume nicely. These colors may be had in fine Clifton Hose at $2.50 a pair.

It is a well known fact that the tailored suit has its particular accessories, gay trifles that no one wants to be without. Fobs, scarfs, kerchiefs, ties and gardenias for "boy" suits are displayed near the entrance.

EASTER

A Time for Tiny Gifts

EASTER is just another delightful time for gift-giving and there are many friends who would appreciate any one of the tokens told about below.

Scarfs that are wisps of silk and gay splashes of color—every top-coat, suit and tailored dress will look more youthful accompanied by one. $2.00.

The vogue for crisp flowers on suit lapels and frock shoulders continues. So a Gardenia, white or faintly tinged with pink or yellow will be welcome, 65c to $3.50.

Handkerchiefs of silk or with cut-work monograms are exquisitely dainty. They please the most fastidious tastes, 50c to $1.50.

Fine and Lovely Chemises

THESE Philippine Chemises, fine and snowy white, are just the ones to wear under fragile dresses. Their patterns are pretty and beautifully worked. You will be proud to own several and their price is only $2.25.

Costume Slips of Sateen

EVERY Easter wardrobe should have its fresh lingerie and certainly include several Costume Slips since they do so much to give smartness and trimness to new clothes. Scalloped hems and hemstitched shoulder straps make these dainty. Their fabrics are supple and soft-hanging sateens and silks.

Union Suits for This Weather

ATHLETIC Union Suits are a comfortable choice for first warm days and a dainty choice where fabrics are as fine crossbar dimities as these. Free and easy styles that are cut to fit correctly are priced at $1.25. Buy three Suits—they'll satisfy.

What would Easter morning be like if you didn't send the children to church in fine new togs? This is the place to buy them as we are featuring wonderful lines of dresses, coats and shoes for the kiddies.

HANDSOME WRAPS Approved for Easter

SET out today and choose that new Wrap you have been thinking about. It is here, on Leitzinger's second floor.

You may find it in a high-colored model three-quarter length, in a soft Wrap of grey trimmed in summer fur, in a topcoat or in a slim coat of Charmeen. Think of awakening on Easter morning to the thought of one of these ready to slip into!

Topcoats with a Swagger Swing

A RIGHT Coat for travel, business or play is a rather short, rather light and immensely fashionable Topcoat. It may have a scarf that flatters while it keeps one warm. It may be horizontally striped or boldly plaided. But it must be one of these—they lead in style.

Three-Quarter Coats

The three-quarter Coat has won! And these are the smartest of the smart in new and brilliant shades.

The Sport Coat Is So Practical

NEVER before have we had so wide a range of coats at popular prices. We have made every effort to give the people of Clearfield and the vicinity a selection of coats that cannot be duplicated except in the much larger cities. Then, too, we have marked the Spring line in accordance with the Leitzinger policy which means that each coat will be sold to you at the very lowest margin of profit and one price to all customers.

Coats from $10.00 to $75.

A PERFECT SPRING SUIT For Every Woman

THE Spring Suits run much to tailored lines and the light colored sport suits with white vests are also good. The tailored suits are usually hairline twills and plain navies—we have them with or without the vests and then too we have separate vests for sale which will do much towards brightening up your last Spring's suit—in fact many of the wash blouses have vest effects and give you the right tailored look.

Suits from $20.00 to $60.00.

NEW WOOL SWEATERS in Three Right Styles

MANY girls have already found that Leitzingers is the home of gay Sweaters. They are happy in new V-neck slip-overs, striped golf coats in brushed wool and Byron collared ones just as you will be if you come soon and choose while the prettiest colors and jauntiest styles remain.

$4.25 to $5.00

Easter Styles in Footwear

NEW and different are the styles we are showing. Made with the idea of giving real service in fit and wear. For women colors, Greys, Tans, all shades. Black Satin, Patent Leather, Suede, and Kid. The new shades of Banana, Airedale, and Fog Grey. All the new things in heels and shapes.

$2.98 to $8.00

Children's pretty slippers in a wide range of colors and styles.

$1.00 to $4.50

Men's Oxfords, everything that is new including the light shades of Russia Calf, the ideal shoe for young men.

Dress and Sport Styles In EASTER FROCKS

SPRING is a joy if one has many Frocks. Women are finding this a delightful place to Easter shop, and you too will enjoy choosing Dresses from this collection not only for Easter, but for every conceivable Spring occasion.

Dresses for Afternoon And Evening Wear

YOU know the Easter dance is less than two weeks away and that is not more than sufficient time for one to choose a beautiful evening dress, hose and slippers to match, etc. This year we have a truly wonderful collection of dresses for the afternoon and evening parties. The correct shades are powder blue, sand, muffin, peach, grey and orange. While most of the effects are produced by the use of lace and beaded combinations. Do come in and allow us to show them to you—we will appreciate your honest opinion of them. Most of them are priced from

$45.00 to $60.00

To Add Lustre to Spring Days

A PLAID frill imparts youth to a slender satin Frock. A vivid dress of foulard has a jaunty apron front. Boyish lines are the choice of a soft moire, delightful for afternoon. And this is only a smattering of the styles ready here for the many frock occasions that arrive with spring.

$15.00 to $60.00

Fur Neckpieces For Spring

WE are showing just the proper furs to go with the Spring Suits and Dresses. The popular grey squirrel in both the single and double skin throws at $10.00. Then there is the stone martin and mink and in the larger pieces we have fox and we are featuring large scarfs of fox similar in silver, peach, flesh and taupe. You must see the furs to appreciate them as they are real values.

For Easter Day New Gloves

HUNDREDS and hundreds of gauntlet Gloves—no two pairs seeming to be alike—are ready for Easter choosing. Cuffs are quite short and are petaled, tiered or embroidered in colored thread. Black and white is especially good but there are a number of likable tan and grey shades in kid.

Spring-Smart Hosiery

COLOR counts in Hosiery for Spring. Sunburnt shades are good, gunmetal, pearl grey, and all shades of brown provided they complement your costume nicely. These colors may be had in fine Clifton Hose at $2.50 a pair.

It is a well known fact that the tailored suit has its particular accessories, gay trifles that no one wants to be without. Fobs, scarfs, kerchiefs, ties and gardenias for "boy" suits are displayed near the entrance.

EASTER

A Time for Tiny Gifts

EASTER is just another delightful time for gift-giving and there are many friends who would appreciate any one of the tokens told about below.

Scarfs that are wisps of silk and gay splashes of color—every top-coat, suit and tailored dress will look more youthful accompanied by one. $2.00.

The vogue for crisp flowers on suit lapels and frock shoulders continues. So a Gardenia, white or faintly tinged with pink or yellow will be welcome, 65c to $3.50.

Handkerchiefs of silk or with cut-work monograms are exquisitely dainty. They please the most fastidious tastes, 50c to $1.50.

What would Easter morning be like if you didn't send the children to church in fine new togs? This is the place to buy them as we are featuring wonderful lines of dresses, coats and shoes for the kiddies.

Fine and Lovely Chemises

THESE Philippine Chemises, fine and snowy white, are just the ones to wear under fragile dresses. Their patterns are pretty and beautifully worked. You will be proud to own several and their price is only $2.25.

Costume Slips of Sateen

EVERY Easter wardrobe should have its fresh lingerie and certainly include several Costume Slips since they do so much to give slenderness and trimness to new clothes. Scalloped hems and hemstitched shoulder straps make these dainty. Their fabrics are supple and soft-hanging satens and silks.

Union Suits for This Weather

ATHLETIC Union Suits are a comfortable choice for first warm days and a dainty choice where fabrics are as fine crossbar dimities as these. Free and easy styles that are cut to fit correctly are priced at $1.25. Buy three Suits—they'll satisfy.

HANDSOME WRAPS

Approved for Easter

SET out today and choose that new Wrap you have been thinking about. It is here, on Leitzinger's second floor.

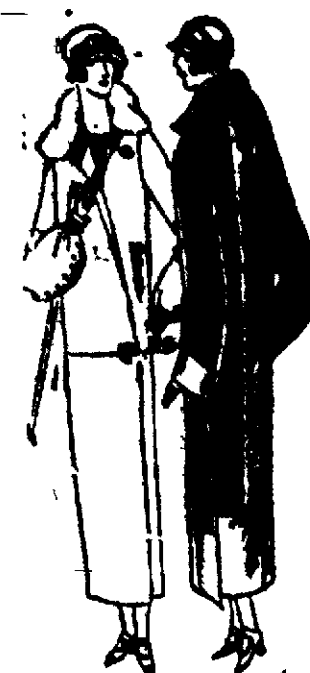

You may find it in a high-colored model three-quarter length, in a soft Wrap of grey trimmed in summer fur, in a topcoat or in a slim coat of Charmeen. Think of awakening on Easter morning to the thought of one of these ready to slip into!

Topcoats with a Swagger Swing

A RIGHT Coat for travel, business or play is a rather short, rather light and immensely fashionable Topcoat. It may have a scarf that flatters while it keeps one warm. It may be horizontally striped or boldly plaided. But it must be one of these—they lead in style.

Three-Quarter Coats

The three-quarter Coat has won! And these are the smartest of the smart in new and brilliant shades.

The Sport Coat Is So Practical

NEVER before have we had so wide a range of coats at popular prices. We have made every effort to give the people of Clearfield and the vicinity a selection of coats that cannot be duplicated except in the much larger cities. Then, too, we have marked the Spring line in accordance with the Leitzinger policy which means that each coat will be sold to you at the very lowest margin of profit and one price to all customers.

Coats from $10.00 to $75.

A PERFECT SPRING SUIT For Every Woman

THE Spring Suits run much to tailored lines and the light colored sport suits with white vests are also good. The tailored suits are usually hairline twills and plain navies—we have them with or without the vests and then too we have separate vests for sale which will do much towards brightening up your last Spring's suit—in fact many of the wash blouses have vest effects and give you the right tailored look.

Suits from $20.00 to $60.00.

NEW WOOL SWEATERS in Three Right Styles

MANY girls have already found that Leitzingers is the home of gay sweaters. They are happy in new V-neck slip-overs, strawed golf coats in brushed wool and Byron collared ones, just as you will be if you come soon and choose while the prettiest colors and jauntiest styles remain.

$4.25 to $5.00

Easter Styles in Footwear

NEW and different are the styles we are showing. Made with the idea of giving real service in fit and wear. For women colors, Greys, Tans, all shades. Black Satin, Patent Leather, Suede, and Kid. The new shades of Banana, Airedale, and Fog Grey. All the new things in heels and shapes.

$2.98 to $8.00

Children's pretty slippers in a wide range of colors and styles.

$1.00 to $4.50

Men's Oxfords, everything that is new including the light shades of Russia Calf, the ideal shoe for young men.

$4.90 to $10.00

WILSON AND LENIN

The Living Age translates and publishes portions of two articles by European authors in which the names of the late President Wilson and Lenin, the Russian tiger, are coupled. Maximilian Harden, well known German pacifist, writes in warm praise of Mr. Wilson. Of him he says that "only those blinded by hate can longer doubt the nobility and purity of his aims." He declares that of all the men who became noted during the World War only Wilson and Lenin, "can aspire to what men, with puerile pride, call immortality. Lenin, who first appeared to our vision with fierce threats upon his lips," and "wrote his cruel commands in blood;" Wilson, who "persuaded a great and youthful nation to fight for an ideal and to demand in return for its huge sacrifice no war indemnity." They alone will live. The other writer was Louis Araguistain, a Spaniard, who drew a parallel between the sufferings and the mutual ambitions of Wilson and Lenin.

CHANCE OF CURE WITH VICTIM

If every person with a sore spot which does not readily heal were to take advantage of the special facilities offered for examination in Cancer Week, now being observed, the result, doubtless, would be shown in the diminished death rate from that disease. As has so often been stressed, success in treating cancer depends on early discovery of the nature of the affliction. It may be that some delay in consulting a physician lest the dread verdict be rendered, yet such a course is fatal if what may be feared proves true. The alarming feature of the disease is its rapid increase despite the efforts made to discover its origin and a remedy. In 1914 out of 100,000 persons, 72 died from cancer. Last year this ratio increased to 100. It is not astonishing that extra efforts should be taken to combat the disease.

Once it was thought that one afflicted with tuberculosis was surely condemned. Medical skill has enabled victims to recover in a majority of cases. It no longer causes the dread once attached to it because its secret has been revealed. A like triumph in the case of cancer would be an equal boon to humanity. It would remove more suffering, because cancer is usually attended by excruciating pain. But physicians can do little unless those who are attacked by incipient cancer fail not to look to their own interest by presenting themselves for treatment. After all is said the chance of a cure lies with the victim. If he doesn't act the doctor cannot.

VARIED PROGRAM ENJOYED FULLY BY COMMERCIALITES

The local hotels, garages and restaurants have been listed and there are historical sketches of the route and contiguous territory. Scenes along the Highway thru this section are also being shown. It is the purpose of the committee to place these folders in all hotels, newspaper tourists bureaus and like places where automobile travelers may have easy access to them. The cost of the folders is being borne by the club and the advertisers shown in the folder. County Farm Agent W. C. Storrett presented his far famed Clearfield County potato club for the club's sponsoring. He outlined the work accomplished by the club during the past summer and the club unanimously adopted the boys for another year. Hon. A. R. Chase was then introduced and in his own characteristic way outlined the position of the judge on the bench when laws were

Progress Editorials for Women

CAUGHT, NOT TAUGHT

By FLORENCE DAVIES

"Religion," says Dean Onge, of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, "is caught, not taught."

Parents who are a little worried or dissatisfied with the conduct of their children ought to read that. "I don't know what to do with those girls," complained a modern mother. "They act outrageously. I call them in and give them a good talking and to tell them that they ought not to behave so badly, and then I hear them go into the next room and giggle. What can I do? They simply refuse to take anything seriously."

What can she do? Well, she might take stock of herself, for one thing. Talking as a rule, doesn't do much good. Acting is what counts. But the actions in this case are not so much those directed toward the erring children as those of the parents themselves.

"It's time to stop talking and act," exclaims an irate parent, when he really means, "It's time to stop warning my child, and to start spanking you."

But if Dean Inge is right, that kind of call to action is not so much what is needed. It may though be time to stop talking and start acting by setting the child a good example.

If religion is caught and not taught the same thing is true of gentleness and obedience and good manners and decent behavior.

"But the children don't see me do these ungainly things," the perplexed parent replies. "I don't scream and whoop through the house and answer back and scratch the furniture."

True enough. But the subtle fact remains that more of manners and goodness and obedience and right living is caught than is taught.

"Mothers may talk themselves deaf, dumb and blind, and it will not do as much good as three words gently spoken by a person who not only talks, but who invariably is the thing she talks about."

It's a subtle something, this business of creating an impression of what's allowable and what isn't allowable, just by being the thing you're talking about.

If religion is caught, not taught, so is loyalty and a sense of what is right and well-mannered and beautiful. Words sometimes help to elucidate and to explain. But the thing that makes these things imperative is not words or commands, but simply the constant association with a person to whom the wrong, the ill-mannered or the unlovely would be impossible. Think back in your own case and see if it was your mother's words which held you, or just your mother herself—the fact of her presence and personality, her very being, which made you feel that ignoble things were impossible. It's caught, not taught.

In the Courts

Pentz & Pentz, representing the DuBois Iron Works entered suit yesterday against the Mt. Airie Coal Mining Co. for the purpose of recovering $900 said to be due for two put up to him for interpretation. The genial judge, who is putting the fear of the law into the hearts of malefactors roundabout, made it plain that the people were responsible for the laws as they stand on the statute books and that it is an admitted fact that these times of intelligence (?) are greatly overburdened with contentions. He also pointed out that of times it looked like a miscarriage of justice in the way matters were handled in the courts but that any judge on any bench was bound to lay aside his own better judgement and execute the laws as they stand on the books.

Judge Chase's talk was highly interesting and instructive in every detail.

The American Legion Orchestra made its debut for the delegation of the club and if their initial performance is a criterion their fame will soon spread far and wide.

Clothes.
Sir Walter Scott tells us in "Ivanhoe," "men wore one thickness of clothes, whether of wool, leather or velvet. The shirt was invented, but for a long time was worn only by the nobility and gentry. Then followed the waistcoats, breeches, and then the trousers. The overcoat, which succeeded the medieval cloak, was rare until the seventeenth century. The dates are not known."

motor driven pumps sold the coal company.

Liveright & Chase began ejectment proceedings on behalf of the U. S. Ref., Co., who seek to recover possession from Ben Parks of a farm in Bradford township.

L. D. McCall, on behalf of the Penn Storage Battery Co., of DuBois entered suit against Hepfer & Hepfer to recover $72.74 for goods sold.

The Superior Ice Cream Co., of Osceola, went into the hands of a receiver. The receiver is Dean Askey of Osceola.

Mrs. Jane Morris, of Beechtree, Jefferson county, was sentenced to pay $100 fine and costs and serve 30 days in jail the jail sentence starting June 1st, with conditions.

Mrs. Morris, it was alleged by the DuBois police had been coming to DuBois every Saturday for a supply of booze. She visited the same store on Franklin street each time. Last Saturday when the woman entered the store the State Police were notified and getting a search warrant for the woman and her suit case arrested her as she came from the store.

A search of the suit case revealed four pints and while being brought to Clearfield on the train Saturday afternoon the woman slipped a pint out of her waist and dropped it out the window of the train before the officer who had her in charge could seize it.

She entered a plea of guilty to possessing liquor and the jail sentence is contingent upon her giving evidence against the storekeeper from whom she got her booze.

A PREACHER'S GRATITUDE

Physical ills assail and the enforced burdens are heavy. Days of anxiety follow. Hearts become lonely and distressed. But these are the times when the friendly expressions mean so very much. And people generally are ready to show themselves friendly in the doing of the needed sympathetic acts that help ease the burdens.

During our recent experiences, Mrs. Gibson and I were made the subjects of so many kindly expressions that we desire publicly to express our deep gratitude. So largely did the community make our trial its own that we have rejoiced in this community thought of us.

Dr. Waterworth was our surgeon and we have come to think Clearfield fortunate in having him as one of her citizens, so skilled, so kindly attentive to the sufferer, and so thoughtful of those deeply concerned. We think Clearfield also fortunate in having so fine a hospital, which the attention we received there constrains us to say.

We are grateful to the Garage men on whom we called for help, for we found them courteously and readily responsive to our calls.

We are grateful for the remembrance of us by the Christian people of Clearfield and other communities. Beyond our own denomination we were told that prayers were being offered for us. Our hearts rejoiced in this because without the help of God, man's skill falls short. In other words these prayers helped us.

Many flowers brought their message of love and encouragement, as did the beautiful and appropriate cards sent us.

How good every one was to us. We feel rich because of these delightful expressions. To every one, "Thank you."

DECLARES DANIEL WAS MURDERED

...a year and a half, and ...a man—near death— ...the vigilant eyes of those who fear his lips may ...a murderer's doom."

This is the story of the "man of mystery," for whom the Department of Justice is conducting a nation-wide search.

"Richards must remain in captivity," Busey told a friend.

"If the Klan produced him, it would spell the death warrant for half a dozen men. Richards alive would prove Daniel dead and give the state its first eye witness to the crime."

Until Daniel's body is found, or Richards produced, no murder charge can be proved against any individual in Louisiana. This is the only way to bring a ...

single murder trial even to this day, although the murder was committed a year ago."

In the secret archives of the high Imperial Klan offices, Busey was marked down as a man who saw the murderers at work on that fateful August night. It was even reported that he stood upon the banks of Lake La Fourche the night that Daniel died. It was said he heard the screams of the victim when the black hooded slayers beat him and at last tied him to a gigantic saw mill cog-wheel and rolled him down a gentle hill to mangled eternity. It was said Busey watched a furtive group carry Daniel's form away and bury it beneath a cypress log.

From other sources, it was learned that an army of detectives employed by the Klans' Imperial palace have honeycombed the southwest seeking Richards' hiding place. A fortune, estimated by some as high as $250,000 has been spent in the search. The Klans, however, have hidden him from the ...

clashes between Klan authorities might lead to a betrayal.

It was said that Captain J. K. Skip with Cyclops of the Morehouse Klan, blamed by state authorities for the murder, wasted his personal fortune on a similar search. It was Skip with who circulated a report that Richards was alive, during the famous Bastrop "open hearings." One of these reports was carried as a news item by International News Service on January 25, 1923.

This report was immediately denounced by Mrs. Anna Richards Garrison, mother of the missing man, as unfounded. She declared she was satisfied her son had been "foully murdered." Richards' widow or wife shared this view for she has since remarried.

Editors Note—In another story tomorrow, International News Service will reveal the "inside story" of the murder plot as revealed by Busey. It deals also with the "open hearing" investigation.

A REGULAR KLUXER

When it comes to cutting down the animal and fowl population of the territory, nothing has anything on the train crew of which Theodore Peterson is the engineer. Yesterday at Warden the train ran over a mule which had dropped into a shallow culvert but hadn't dropped quite deep enough to escape the cow catcher and on down the road about Hyde it disputed the right of way with a flock of chickens with the result that somebody is minus a few good layers today. Mr. Peterson reports that the robbers who game entrance to the Penn Mary Store at Willow a few weeks ago have been apprehended.

ROTARIANS WILL MAKE REPORTS OF DEATHS TO BALTIMORE MEET

Unusual interest is being manifested in tomorrow evening's Rotary meeting at which the ... son and Pop Wilson will give their report. The celebrated Wilson boys were at the Baltimore District Convention representing the Clearfield Club. In addition, Rev. French McAfee, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Patton, Pa., is expected to give a five minute talk.

RESOLUTIONS OF BAR ASSOCIATION ON JAMES GLEASON

James Andrew Gleason, son of Andrew and Catherine Gleason was born at Dudley, Huntingdon County, Penna. on September 11th, 1872, and when he was two and one-half years old his parents moved to Houtsdale, where they resided thereafter, so that in all respects, except birth, he was a product of Clearfield county.

Deprived of his father, by the death of that parent when James was eleven years old, the moulding of his character was largely the work of his mother and sisters for whom he ever retained the warmest affection.

In boyhood he attended the schools of his town and pursued his studies in St. Vincent's College at Beatty, Pa. entering when Rev. Father Fischer of Merriamdale and the present Arch Abbot of the College were students.

The mature life of Mr. Gleason was greatly influenced by the teachings and atmosphere of the College in the days of his youth and his love for his Alma Mater was always in evidence; his crowning confidence being the placing of his only son in its care.

Coming from College to engage in the practicalities of life, he became a student at law in the office of the late William H. Patterson and was registered as such on Aug. 29, 1895. The relations between these men remained peculiarly close and the confidence which each reposed in the other is one of the pleasant memories of the bar.

As the result of his ability and diligence he was admitted to the bar of Clearfield county on the 6th day of December, 1897, and in later years to the Bar of the Supreme Court and those of the several Federal Courts exercising jurisdiction over legal controversies arising in this region, and he was admitted to the bar of the county of Allegheny.

On his admission to practice the firm of Patterson and Gleason was formed and for several years enjoyed an extensive and profitable share of the legal business of the county.

On Jan. 15, 1900 he opened a law office at DuBois and rapidly acquired a practice which extended over a considerable part of Western Pennsylvania and he reported upon him duties in many of the courts of his powers to the utmost.

On June 2, 1901 Mr. Gleason was united in marriage with Mrs. Sophie (Weaver) Haines, and during his lifetime DuBois was a delicious establishment. His family there in October, 1900, when they have since resided, later in a beautiful home built by him, and looking toward the principal business of the city, where they enjoyed the greatest of all pleasures, the American Home. It was a true family where love and respect were dominant and happiness its charm.

As a lawyer he was able, persuasive and convincing, the interest of his clients was his first and in cases which appeared to the other side of his nature, his faith in the cause he represented knew no bounds.

He was beloved by the Bar, trusted by the Judges and highly regarded by the Juries.

Every interested in civic affairs, he was Burgess of Houtsdale when he had scarcely reached man's estate, he long served the City of DuBois as City Solicitor, and held minor positions usually of great profit.

Politically, he was ardently a Democrat, but it was Democracy in principle and not in party label which held his allegiance and he recognized no partisan obligation which might blur his visions of the rights and interests of the people.

In religion, he was a sincere and devoted member of the Catholic faith, and with him there was no shadow of doubt where his duty lay, but with that he was content; he never condemned others whose views led them to worship God in another manner. He was much less concerned as to what a person believed, than as to how completely that belief controlled and inspired the life of its possessor and was made manifest in his daily acts and conversation.

In his contact with those less gifted or less fortunate, he was the embodiment of kindness and helpfulness; not merely his purse and his hand, but his heart also, was open to the cry of need or the sigh of sorrow. His private charities were many and his support of public benevolence unflinching.

He was an American with no divided allegiances, proud of his race and its history, this pride only stimulated a greater pride in his country, its record and its people. He was an American in no narrow sense, he recognized and appreciated the traits of worth and value in races other than his own and in people of diverse birth and speech.

As a man he loved his fellows and his instinctive disposition was always to enlist on the side of the weak, the assailed or the oppressed.

Of great natural gentility, an extensive contact with men and a keen insight into their inborn traits coupled with a love of mingling with other men, an eloquent and witty speaker, his presence where men congregated for counsel or relaxation was much desired and he was almost as well known in the banquet hall or the counsel chamber as in the Courts.

Nature had done much for him; six feet six inches in stature, splendidly proportioned, handsome of face and striking of figure, he attracts attention, and those who came to him were held by his ready wit, his eloquence and gentility, until his qualities of mind and heart and soul developed acquaintance in friendship and friendship into affection.

He was a charming companion, and whether in the private home or the public resort, on the street or the office, among the mighty or the lowly, in the hours of joy or the watches of sorrow, he was "Jim" Gleason, while with rare humility he was disposed to refer his successes as due less to his own efforts than to good fortune or to Divine favor.

In the hey day of his success, in the full possession of his mental and physical powers, while seated in his office at 12:15 p. m. on March 29, 1924, by the breaking of a chair he suffered a fall, the consequences of which were not then deemed serious, but God willed otherwise, and at 9:15 p. m. on March 30th, 1924, the spirit took its flight and left us but our memories.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED That in the death of our brother, James Andrew Gleason, the bar has lost one of its brightest ornaments, the people a gifted advocate, the country a patriotic citizen and the world a good man.

That we commend to ourselves the thoughtful consideration of his life, that we may seek to emulate his virtues.

That we extend to his bereaved family and relatives the sincere expression of our profound sorrow at their great loss, tempered with their just pride in his life and deeds.

That a record of this Memorial be spread upon the minutes of the Court and a certified copy thereof be delivered to his family.

of the State be upheld and obeyed, or shall the minor subdivisions of the Commonwealth be permitted to defy the central authority and nullify the law of the State at will? How can the constituted authorities of our municipalities expect the people to respect and obey the ordinances which they enact, if the municipal authorities openly and brazenly nullify the laws of the State?"

The trouble with Pennsylvania's standard time law appears to be that it provides no penalties for violations. But the Grange stoutly contends that this does not justify Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or any other municipality in deliberately evading or violating the law.

RUN-DOWN WEAK, NERVOUS

Benefited by First Bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lancaster, Pa.—"After I was married I became terribly run-down and was weak and nervous. My sister-in-law told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband got me a bottle at once, and it did me so much good that I kept on taking it. I began to feel well and strong again and was able to do my housework up to the time my baby was born—a nice fat little girl in the best of health. I surely am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends when they have troubles like mine, and I am perfectly willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."

—Mrs. FRANK H. GRIMM, 533 Locust Street, Lancaster, Pa.

Women should heed such symptoms as pains, backache, nervousness, a run-down condition and irregularity, as they indicate some form of female trouble.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Sewer For Market Street.
Chairman Adams of the Sewer Committee recommended that a 24 inch sewer be built on Market street extending from North street to the river. There has never been a public sewer on this street and there has ever been a crying need for one as everybody ever attempting to cross the "diamond" corner in sloppy weather will forever testify. Council unanimously adopted the recommendation and directed the Sewer Committee to proceed at once with the work.

Increased Salary for Police.
Following the recommendation of Burgess Kittelberger and in recognition of the efficient manner in which they are policing the town, the Police Committee recommended that an increase of $15 per month be given Chief McMullen and Assistant Woolridge. The salary raise dates from April 1st and will make the chief's salary $165 per month and the Assistant $150. As these officers are on duty 30 days a month this salary will amount to but $5.50 per day out of which the policemen must supply their own uniforms.

Recommend Street Paving.
The Highway Committee asked the paving of Cherry street, between Second and Third streets. They also recommended that Front street be paved from Market street to Walnut street, provided the School Board would agree to pay one third the cost of such improvement from March to the Junior High property and 50 per cent of the cost fronting the Junior High property, the property owners from Cherry to Walnut being required to pay 50 per cent of the cost as the law provides.

After voting to rescind the previous recommendation as to this street, this recommendation was unanimously adopted. Front street from Walnut to the point was discussed at some length, it being the opinion of the Engineer and Highway Department that before this street is paved a retaining wall should be built for a distance of approximately 600 feet. Such a wall would cost $10,000 or $12,000, which will likely preclude any thought of attempting the improvement of that section of Front street this year.

New Road Machine Received.
The Fordson tractor, with Wehr one man road machine or grader attached, for use on the dirt streets of the borough, which Council purchased several weeks ago, arrived last week, according to Chairman Beahan of Highway Committee. He also said an expert manipulator of the machine would be in Clearfield Friday to teach a local man to operate same, which had already been tried out and found to be just what is needed here.

JORDAN'S

DR. A. C. BUSEY, MAN WHO CLAIMED TO KNOW INSIDE STORY OF MER ROUGE MURDERS, STRANGELY MISSING TODAY

Famous 'Mystery' Man Claimed That He Was
'Framed' and Thrown Into Prison.

A QUEER CAREER

(Copyright 1924 International News Service.)

Atlanta, Ga., April 7—A "man of mystery," who boasted of holding a solution to the ghastly mob murders of Mer Rouge (La., which shocked the nation in the winter of 1922-1923)—was sought today by every agency of the government following his quiet disappearance from the federal prison here.

The "man of mystery" was Dr. A. C. Busey, klansmen and one time oil millionaire, who dissipated a fortune won in the oil fields and wandered at last outside the law.

An honored man on the prison farm Busey has mysteriously dropped out of sight although his sentence had to run a few months.

He took away with him one of the most fantastic crime stories ever conceived and so sensational a solution of the Mer Rouge murders as to astound the nation.

Because of the murder secret he claimed to hold, friends of Busey fear he may have been kidnapped from the penitentiary for deportation from the country or carried away to a violent death by men who dreaded the publicity of his story. A nation wide search has been instituted by the Department of Justice and its agents already have followed a trail that led from Atlanta to Birmingham, Ala. Authorities along the Mexican border have been ordered to throw out a drag net to prevent his possible escape into Mexico.

Violence was feared by his friends because Busey claimed to know the inside story of the Mer Rouge murders in which the state of Louisiana charged a hooded mob of Ku Klux Klansmen crucified Thomas F. Richards and Watt Daniels, citizens of Mer Rouge. Two cruelly mutilated bodies later found in a near by lake identified by friends and a number of prominent klansmen arrested on murder charges but never brought to trial.

From inside prison walls Busey sent word to friends that the Mer Rouge murders were plotted in the town of Marshall, Tex., and that he knew the names of those who had gathered at the "round table" of death. The conspirators he said planned the tragedy because one of the reported victims had carried liquor into Texas oil camps but behind this excuse lurked the hot animosities of a small town. The Ku Klux Klan was directly involved but not as an organization and only because all the conspirators and the actual murderers themselves were klansmen.

To his friends, Busey even hinted that he saw the murderers in action and watched them flee from the scene of their crime. He revealed other and more lurid details of the murder plot.

Prison records lend color to Busey's story. They show that he held frequent consultations with the highest Klan officials. Among his visitors were E. Y. Clarke, a former Imperial Klan officer and one of its founders; Henry J. Norton, Cyclops of the local Klan in Atlanta; Wm. Schley Howard, attorney for most of the Klan's Imperial officers; "Fighting Jim" Murray and J. D. Jett, Secret Service agents of the Klan and a half dozen others.

In addition Busey received numerous letters from Klan officials including a number of communications from Captain J. K. Skipwith, Exalted Cyclops of the Morehouse Parish Klan where the hooded mob murders took place.

From his prison cell, Busey wrote frequently to friends. In one letter obtained by International News Service he wrote: "I hold the secret (of the Mer Rouge murders) and others know that I do. Certain people have hit the right trail and their spies are doing everything possible to cover this up."

"They are trying to throw a scare into me but I am true blue to the finish. Though my tongue is silent, my mind is not at ease and I am ready to act at any time."

On March 13 last, a few weeks before his disappearance Busey wrote the same friend:

"I got a letter from Captain Skipwith. He gave me advice. He said: 'a frame up' to get him out of the way. He said he was taken to the prison by the Department of Justice and that I might come home soon."

Busey's own life history reads like a page from fiction. He was a pioneer in the Arkansas oil fields and some years ago was among those who brought in the first great gusher at Eldorado, Arkansas. His holdings at one time were valued at $3,000,000 and he sold his first great gusher to an Illinois millionaire for $400,000. Later, he drifted into the Texas oil fields and lost his fortune on a wild cat venture. His career ended suddenly when he was arrested at Delhi, La., in April, 1923, on a charge of using the mails to defraud. He was found guilty and sentenced to Atlanta for eighteen months.

Busey charged the conviction was "a frame up" to get him out of the way. He said he was taken to the prison by the Department of Justice agent who was in charge of the Government's investigation at Mer Rouge. "I was framed," he told his friends.

"They told me I had better come down here and take my medicine, because my life would not be safe on the outside of a prison. I know the inside of the Mer Rouge case."

Rates and Returns

The millions of dollars' worth of telephone property in Pennsylvania represent investment savings of the people of Pennsylvania. A hundred and twenty-five thousand such investors live in this State.

In putting their money into the telephone business they had faith that the people of Pennsylvania would pay reasonable rates for good telephone service.

As the telephone business expands it is necessary to go to this same public and ask them to invest additional funds. We can secure that money only so long as rates for telephone service are such as to allow an adequate return on the money invested.

The present rates do not so allow.

That's why we are asking the very same public at this time for a moderate increase.

In other words, we are asking "of the public, for the public."

MEN'S SHOES

Old bathroom fixtures that are sagged, cracked and chipped are a needless source of extra house work. Then too, danger of contagion lies in every one of these germ-catching blemishes. Keeping the floor clean, under and back of an old style tub and fixtures is a matter of lots of hard work.

Join the long list of families who have improved their homes with modern built-in bath tubs and other up-to-date sanitary fixtures. They are a blessing to the housewife; and cost far less than they increase the property's value.

The installation or replacement of plumbing fixtures is no longer a thing to be dreaded. Our new and modern method enable us to concentrate and quickly finish a job, without musing up the whole house.

WANTED—TEN BOYS

The Farm Bureau would like to have the names of ten boys, between the ages of ten and 18, who would like to raise a pure bred beef calf this summer. If sufficient interest is shown, calves about ten months old will be secured for the boys, costing approximately $50.00 each. The Banks of the County have promised to help the boys who need assistance in buying the calves, while the Farm Bureau and State College will teach the boys how to feed and care for their animals up to the time of slaughter, which should be early in December. Boys, if you are interested, write to the Farm Bureau at once.

WHY PUT IT OFF?

Official information received from Harrisburg, on Monday, April 7th, indicates that the cattle in the following ten townships will be tested between May 1st and June 1st:

Bundy, D. L. Bloom, Sandy, Lawrence, Pine, Goshington, and Union.

Definite dates for starting will be announced on the Livestock Bulletin of the May edition.

Examinations have been made by the Bureau of Animal Industry in a limited number of townships, or will be in the near future, in the following townships:

Clearfield, Clearfield, Clearfield, Clearfield, Clearfield, Clearfield, Clearfield, Clearfield, Clearfield, Clearfield.

Who expect to send their cattle to the test, should report the same at the Farm Bureau, so that the cattle can be made to test before the summer.

It is made to test the cattle at the same time as the cattle in the other townships.

Although no definite date has been set, the State has definitely decided to test the cattle in the other townships in the order in which they are sent to Harrisburg.

FORAGE CROPS BEST FOR PIGS

Results at the various experimental stations, including the animal husbandry department at the Pennsylvania State College, indicate that forage fed pigs are thriffter and are produced more economically than those fed in dry lots. Tests conducted on over 2000 hogs on 75 farms in various parts of Pennsylvania give practical proof of this experiment.

A summary of these farm tests shows that 451 pounds of grain were required to produce 100 pounds of gain in dry lot, only 315 pounds were needed when the "porkers" had good forage crops. Authorities estimate that one-third of the grain bill can be saved by the use of a proper grain ration with pasture such as alfalfa, Dwarf Essex rape, or clover.

A good forage crop like alfalfa furnishes minerals, necessary vitamins, considerable proteins and carbohydrates, and insures a high degree of digestibility to both forage and grain, according to veteran swine feeders. This, they say, is the reason why forage makes the pigs thrifty and cuts down on the amount of grain required.

"Don't make the mistake of thinking that pigs can thrive entirely on forage crops," they add. "Provide plenty of grain and see that a rich protein feed such as tankage, fish meal, or a milk by-product is included in the ration. Forage crops are not a substitute for these concentrates but merely cut down the amount of high priced feeds necessary to produce healthy, profitable pigs."

"400" POTATO GROWERS TELL HOW TO DO IT

The secret of growing 400 or more bushels of potatoes on a single acre is no matter of luck but the feat is due to the application of the best methods of culture as shown by answers received to a letter sent out to the 54 farmers who are members of Pennsylvania's "400 Bushel Potato Club." A summary of these answers just compiled by J. B. R. Dickey, crop extension specialist at the Pennsylvania State College, shows that with few exceptions, these champion growers followed the methods advocated by the college extension men.

Thirty-eight out of 49 of the "400 Club" members grew their crop on clover or alfalfa soil. Only three used timothy sods or pasture fields and only five planted on corn stubble. All but two used manure, some applying 20 tons, with the average about eight and one-half tons per acre. All but four applied the manure in the fall or winter.

The answers to the letters indicate that all but four of the select "400" used fertilizer, the average amount being 825 pounds. Eleven men used only acid phosphate which has been found adequate on good, well-manured land. Seventeen used 1000 pounds of fertilizer or more per acre and two growers used 2600 pounds. Only 13 used over two per cent of ammonia and only five used over six per cent of potash. Nearly all used at least a part of their fertilizer in the row, but 14 growers made additional broadcast applications.

The report on the varieties grown in making the record-breaking yield shows that only two grew Cobblers. All the rest planted potatoes of the Rural New Yorker family, 39 growing Rural Russells, the majority of which were Michigan grown. The average amount of seed used was 17.6 bushels, although a number used over 20 bushels. In summing up the practices of the "400 Club" members, Dickey states twenty-one counties and all types of soil were represented in the list, showing that success lies more in the man and his methods than in soil or locality.

GOOD SIRES PROVE WORTH IN BULL ASSOCIATIONS

Convincing proof of the value of bred-for-production sires introduced through bull associations in Pennsylvania is found in a report just issued by the dairy extension department at State College. The daughters of these sires show an increased production of twenty-eight per cent over their dams. It is noted that the farmers could increase their milk herd by almost one-third and still receive the same volume of milk.

Pennsylvania now has about thirty of these associations in operation. Crawford County leads with three groups of farmers owning high class sires co-operatively. New associations have just been organized in Jefferson, Lawrence, and Elk counties with forty-five farmers included in the three groups. Holsteins were the favored breed in the new associations and purebred "black and white" sires have been purchased from outstanding herds. Cambria, McKean and Potter counties expect to organize associations in the near future.

SIMPLIFIED ALFALFA GROWING IS SUCCESS

The direct method of doing things is the only one used for many years before someone stumbled on a much easier method. This is true of alfalfa growing in Clearfield County.

Formerly, alfalfa was sown on specially prepared land in August, and there was comparative little growth in short rotation. Farmers are now finding that they can grow almost as good stands by sowing the seed in the spring on winter grain or with oats or barley just as clover seed is sown. This method requires no special preparation and that which is needed is paid for in the grain crop that is harvested.

Extension crop specialists at the Pennsylvania State College say that inoculation sufficient time and alfalfa seed from one of the northwestern states are just as necessary in spring seeding as in the fall. Neglect of any one of these points, they add, usually results in failure, and any one of these practices is more important than the time or manner of sowing the seed. If the seed is sown late enough in the spring to take a team on the winter grain field, an alfalfa disk will help materially in getting a stand; harrowing the grain lightly also helps to cover the alfalfa seed and does not injure the grain.

The first time alfalfa is sown on a field, it is a safe plan to mix from six to ten pounds of alfalfa seed with about two thirds of the usual clover seeding, according to the extension specialists. If the alfalfa succeeds the first crop will be a mixed hay and the later crops largely alfalfa. In case the alfalfa fails there will still be clover and timothy. Where the soil has been sufficiently limed it costs but little to try alfalfa in this way.

Place the sow on ground where no hogs have been before or at least in a lot that has been plowed and sown to a forage crop but not pastured previously to turning the sow in. Sows may be doubled up two or three in a lot when pigs are ten days to two weeks old.

Outside pasture lots, advised for all pregnant sows. The least that should be provided is roomy lot and with forage, shade and water the situation is ideal.

Suitable farrowing quarters may vary from just an overhead protection to an up-to-date colony house. The farrowing lot must be new ground not used before for hogs and if a colony house is pulled into lot, it must be scrubbed with boiling hot water. Pay particular attention to floor and inside walls, also part within reach of hog on outside walls. Add enough lye to boiling water to cut the dirt. If feed trough has been used in other hog pens, it is due for a scrubbing too.

Bear in mind that the aim is to provide a lot and shelter with absolutely not one worm egg present. Pigs can not pick worms out of the air. The eggs must be present if there is any infection.

Many a calf has stumbled thru the first part of its life suffering from scours and digestive trouble, losing a lot of time and growing beside, developing to an undesirable calf. Due to lack of proper care and feed.

First: A calf should be kept in clean, well lotted quarters at all times. Second: It should have access to a small lot in which to exercise.

Third: Be sure the calf gets the first milk that its mother gives. This is colostrum milk and has a laxative effect which the calf needs to give it the right start in life. If for any reason colostrum milk is not available, castor oil should be given in the tablespoonful doses every two hours until the bowels move.

Fourth: Teach the calf to drink from a bucket while it is very young. This will require more patience than skill. Pay special attention to keeping the buckets clean at all times.

Fifth: In cold weather keep the calf in well ventilated, comfortable stalls. In very hot weather it should have shelter from the hot sun and flies. Sixth: Preventing Horns from Growing. When the calf is about ten days old you can feel a button-like lump where each horn will later appear. This is the best time to prevent the growth of horns. With scissors clip the hair from the button-like lump.

COCCIDIOSIS

By DONALD MCK. GRAY

Coccidiosis is one of the most pestiferous diseases that menace the appearance among young birds. Because of this fact, farmers should learn how to act the conditions that tend to bring it about and a few treatment for the infected flock.

Coccidiosis, or "bloody diarrhea" as it is sometimes called, is caused by a minute parasite that attacks the intestines. The history of this organism is very simple and the nature of the disease is so simple that presentation of this material will suffice to say that the parasite is picked up from the ground while in the spare and when passing through the body does much damage to intestinal wall. At our stage of development are gone through and finally the organism is eliminated by being passed out with the feces. The bird will remain free from the parasite unless it is reinfected from external sources.

While this disease may trouble only a few birds, those ranging from a few to ten and ten to twenty are most susceptible. The sick chickens isolate themselves from the rest of the flock and stand hunched up near the brooder house. There is usually a watery diarrhea present. The passage of blood is often indicative that a serious case of coccidiosis is present. Sometimes the bird comes very emaciated over the brooder and the bones are very prominent. Some of the wall of the crop is often enlarged. The crop is long and pouches attached to the lower part of the intestine are frequently inflated with mucus, which is either hard and like a rock or soft and watery.

The trouble is most common in young birds, but older birds being raised on old ranges. Poor rationing, overfeeding, over heating, chilling or other faulty conditions in management so that the birds that they become easy prey for the parasite. Prevention lies in observing adequate sanitation and keeping the young birds by feeding them well and housing them properly. Sour milk in the ration helps in warding off this trouble.

The treatment that has been suggested by the College for a number of years is:

1. Feed soil mix.
2. Feed a limited amount of a wet, crumbly mash.
3. Give no hard grains until the first are again normal.
4. Give one teaspoonful of by drogher and in every quart of drinking water.
5. Give one-fourth pound of castor oil to every hundred chicks in a wet mash. One does usually enough.
6. Move to new ground.
7. Keep the coop very clean.
8. Do not overfeed.

Some experienced stations are recommending the use of powdered crude catechu. The plan of attack is to put one teaspoonful of powdered crude catechu in each three gallons of water. At low two chicks for three days, then a clean drink for one day, then repeat the procedure. Catechu is astringent and if the droppings become hard, a dose of castor oil should be given at the rate of one-fourth pound to the hundred birds.

TESA SEED CORN BEFORE PLANTING

The seed corn situation in Clearfield County is quite serious this year, and should be tested by every grower before it is planted. Due to the large amount of moisture in the corn last fall, much of it did not get thoroughly dried out before freezing weather came, which caused the germ to be killed by the frost. A great many who have tested claim that they are receiving very low germination. Since it only requires a few quarts of corn to plant an acre it is very important that about it grow.

The Farm Bureau has received several requests for seed corn of both the White and Yellow Dent varieties. Anyone having good seed corn should communicate with the Farm Bureau, and those who desire to purchase the same can get some corn of good quality through the Farm Bureau, if they desire.

EARLY DAYS OF THE CALF'S LIFE; ITS CARE EXPLAINED BY EASY STEPS; FOLLOW THE RULES AND HAVE SUCCESS

Wrap the end of stick of caustic potash or caustic soda in paper to protect your hands. Dip the end of a stick in water and hold as you would a pencil. Rub the skin over the lump until it bleeds at the center. Rub vigorously, especially on the highest part of the lump and for a space around it about the size of a dime. Do not make it wet enough so the caustic potash will run.

Seventh: Milk should also be fed to calves warm and sweet. There is no way by which the digestive system of the calf can be upset more easily than by feeding cold milk at one feeding and warm milk at another. The use of the finger to determine the temperature of milk is a poor method.

Eighth: Feed a calf its mother's milk until it is three or four weeks old then gradually change it to skim milk and feed skim milk until it is six months old or longer if skim milk is available.

Ninth: Clean, fresh water should be provided for.

Tenth: Calves at all times should be fed hand grain. When a calf is born, love it; as it grows, study it. When it is feeding time, feed it. When it is thirsty, by all means give it a drink.

When it is sick, comfort it. When it is cold shelter it. And at all times let it know how well you understand it.

SWEET CLOVER PROVES AN EXCELLENT TEMPORARY PASTURE WHILE PUTTING YOUR SOIL IN MUCH IMPROVED SHAPE

Many dairymen of the county face a shortage of pasture each season and this year is no exception. This necessitates the growing and feeding of soiling crops, with attendant daily bother and labor. A patch of sweet clover for pasture has frequently offered the best solution and has given a maximum amount of feed per acre. Numerous cases are reported where sweet clover, during its second year, has pastured three cows per acre throughout the season. Unfortunately sweet clover lives only two years and while it very often maintains itself by reseeding, it has not the permanence of alfalfa or blue grass.

A plan which has been tried on many farms is to sow a small field to sweet clover every year, about one acre for every three to five cows pastured. A common method is to sow early with a light seeding of oats; although winter grain may be used, with the sweet clover sown in the spring. Usually the grain is harvested, but in the case of oats, it is generally better to cut it green for hay. If necessary, the grain and sweet clover may be pastured together. After harvesting the crop, the sweet clover will furnish a large amount of fall grazing but should be allowed a fair winter covering.

The second spring, the sweet clover is ready to pasture as soon as it has made a few inches of growth. This is usually several weeks before grass pasture is ready to be grazed. Some farmers pasture the sweet clover right through the season, while others transfer the stock to grass pasture about June first and allow the sweet clover to come on for hay. Experience shows that sweet clover for hay should be cut when about thirty inches high. Unless it is pastured, this stage will be reached about June first which is usually a poor haying season. If the clover is grazed, haying can be delayed three or four weeks. The second year, it has been found advisable to cut it high enough to leave side branches to make a second growth. Six or seven inches of stubble is generally necessary.

If the hay is cut at the proper time, it is almost as good as alfalfa. The second growth may again be pastured after the hay crop is removed. This furnishes supplementary pasture on both the first and second year seeding during August when grass pasture is usually short. When one has no grass pasture, and when the sweet clover is not harvested, two patches, one put in each spring, will furnish pasture for a large number of cows. This practice will be profitable and will economize feed and labor on land too high in value to be devoted to permanent pasture, which usually carries less than one animal per acre.

Sweet clover like most good things has its peculiarities. It will not grow on a sour soil without liberal liming. On wet land it is apt to heave out. It requires inoculation at first unless alfalfa has been grown. Stock sometimes refuse to eat green sweet clover at first. They must be confined to it at the start, turned on it before it gets large and coarse, and enough animals must be put on it to keep it grazed down to less than a foot in height. On the other hand this legume seldom, if ever, causes bloat. It is succulent and rich in protein, is drought resistant, and is the most efficient pasture and soil improvement crop so far found. Fifteen or twenty pounds of scarified seed per acre is generally sown.

CRONKHITE CASE UP AGAIN WITH NEW COURT DECISION

Washington, April 7 (INS).—The Supreme Court today decided that the federal court in Washington should have jurisdiction of the federal court in Washington for trial. Potthier, the alleged murderer had not been committed on grounds solely within the jurisdiction of the Federal government. The decision carried the case of the government to return for trial Captain Rosenbluth, implicated in Potthier.

Equipment on Beef Farm Need Not Be Expensive

The equipment on a beef farm need not be nearly so expensive or elaborate as on a dairy farm. Where pure breeds are sold it is of course advisable to have the barns and sheds as neat as possible so as to make a good impression upon prospective buyers. Equipment upon feeding steers need not represent a whole lot of money, but the bunk, sheds, and water supply should be so arranged that feeding may be performed with as little labor as possible.

Self-Feeders Are Best for Raising Fall Pigs

Fall pigs are best raised with self-feeders. Provide shelled corn, tankage and ground oats, if desired, in separate compartments of a self-feeder and let the pigs help themselves. Do not fail to provide tankage even if better milk or skim milk is available for feeding. If either one of the latter is provided the pigs will eat less tankage. They will not eat more tankage than they need, provided they can get at it when they want.

How Egyptians Make Fire.
The question of how the Egyptians made fire was one that often exercised archaeologists. No representation of the process existed on the monuments, nor does the nation appear to have attached any religious significance to the origin of fire. The question was settled by the discovery at Kahun of a regular bow drill for making fire, together with several sticks showing the burnt holes caused by fire drilling.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Remove Ink Stains.
To remove ink stains from white material, wet the spot and rub with any good laundry soap, then soak in a solution of sulphur naphthol for one day. If ink has not all disappeared, rinse out and boil, and the ink will disappear as if by magic. Mildew can be removed in the same way.

JACQUES' LITTLE WONDER CAPSULES

Auto Intoxication

Auto Intoxication is caused by fermenting food which poisons the system. To prevent indigestion, remove the cause. One or two Jacques' Capsules with a swallow of water help to restore normal function and regulate bowels.

Expecting Too Much.
The girl who expects her friends to be perfect has many a disappointment in store. Human nature is full of surprises, but perfection would be the greatest surprise of all. Do not be astonished when you discover some little flaw in your friend's character. For unless love has blinded her, it is very certain that she has discovered a similar flaw in yourself.

Your "Tip" to the Thief.
In a crowd the thief will often make a cry of "watch out for pickpockets" and immediately everyone will clutch his hand to the pocket in which he carries his money. The thief watches closely and thereupon, is informed just where you carry your wealth. The hip pocket is said to be the most unsafe place for valuables as it is the most easily reached by the thief.

Duplicity Exposed.
A story is told of a country dweller who had sadly neglected his worship. A deputation from the class meeting urged his reappearance. He took part in a prayer meeting on his return, and was offering loud thanksgiving for the privilege of meeting together for worship, when suddenly one of the deputation shouted: "Diana believe 'im Lord; we'd a terrible hard job to get 'im back."—London Answers.

Hope to Aid Indians

The Indian ex-service men are proving difficult to handle, according to recent reports furnished American Legion officials in South Dakota and other western states, by investigators of the veterans' bureau. Many of these men were wounded, but when they return to the reservations nothing is ever heard of claims for hospitalization, compensation, or treatment. Recently Legion officials and representatives of the veterans' bureau inspected reservations in the West and found that a majority of the Indians who served in the World war are compensable, but many are not now receiving government aid. One report indicates that out of one hundred and fifty examined, practically one-third were afflicted with trachoma, a contagious disease of the eye. Legion officials in such states expect to extend their relief work to aid these men.

Purchase Burial Plots

Four plots of ground in one of the city cemeteries have been purchased by Argonne post No. 20 of the American Legion, to be used as a burying ground for Legionnaires without family or whose families are not in a position to purchase a plot. The post also decided to procure from the government headstones which are furnished free of cost to former service men.

DRIGGS THEATRE TONIGHT

Did you MARRY for MONEY?

WHAT is more beautiful than a young girl, representing Youth, Te iderness, aglow with love and dreams, to be passionately adored by young manhood? That in his strong, protecting arms she finds the soul's desire. They have love. All the gold in the world should not be as important as their love, yet how often in real life gold is more important and beautiful girlhood sacrificed, sold for gold.

THERE is a girl who has this terrible fate before her. Against her will a man, old and repellant, is buying her—buying her with gold. She felt already a dave, just as bad as those of ancient days that were sold half-naked in the market place.

IT happens even in the house of the boy she loves so well. The man she hates and must marry came into this house; suddenly around them came danger, disaster. In that danger her lover stood by her side, but little did that avail him, for bitter death—then separation—and then something unexpected happened. The three stood face to face.

TO see this and how it all came about you must see D. W. Griffith's "ONCE AN EXCITING NIGHT" at the Driggs Theatre. During this unfolding you will be thrilled as you have not been thrilled before—love thrills—mystery thrills—and get as many good laughs between time as ever you had in your life.

Would You SELL Yourself for GOLD?

Chrysler Motor Designer Has A Unique Plan For Writing Auto History

Due to the amazing growth of the automobile industry during the past twenty years, at no place in this country has there been preserved a complete record of the development of the motor car. The industry should have a building upon Congress to be built as a part of the United States National Museum in Washington where there should be a complete record of the original motor cars as they existed today.

The chairman of the board of the Chrysler Corporation, Walter P. Chrysler, has announced that he has secured the services of the Chrysler Corporation to build a building in Washington to be a permanent record of the development of the automobile industry.

Chrysler said that the building would be a permanent record of the development of the automobile industry.

WILL HOLD CAPONIZING

The Farm Bureau has been notified, by the Poultry Extension Department of State College, that a Specialist will be available for a few days about the first of May, to demonstrate the art of caponizing. Only one demonstration will be held in a community where there is a request. The meetings will be held according to the time the requests are filed at the Farm Bureau Office. First in first served.

This is an opportunity for the poultry raisers of Clearfield County to get first hand information on how to derive greater profit from their male birds. Which community will be the first to call for a demonstration? If you desire a demonstration on your farm, and have twenty to twenty-five male birds, kindly let us know at once, and a demonstration will be arranged for.

Symbolic October Gems.

For the person born in October who wishes to have a thing showing the stone of his guardian angel and amulet for the month—a quaint old custom worth reviving—it is worth knowing that for the angel named Barbel, agate is the stone, and for the apostle Simon Jacinth is selected. The combination, though symbolic, might not be altogether pleasing. The hop, anciently used as the symbol of the flower of the month, is sometimes used as the design in an ornamental gold ring, for persons born in October.
